Good morning [redacted]

I'm [redacted] in the lab at Quantico, and I am looking for information on a submission you received. I just spoke with your unit, and your Unit Chief said that it was assigned to you.

The submission is from Karga 7 productions, and supposedly contains the solution to an unsolved cipher in a criminal case (my unit at the lab, the Cryptanalysis and Racketeering Records Unit, contains the FBI's codebreakers). This Zodiac cipher potentially contains evidence to murders, so we are very interested in whether they have actually solved it. Is it possible for you to send a copy of their solution that we can analyze? A photo or digital copy would suffice.

Thanks!

You will find the attached cipher from Karga 7 Productions as previously discussed.

The producer is asking that you and/or [redacted] reconsider granting an on-camera interview for their documentary on the Zodiac Killer.

As I indicated, we had considered granting an interview but opted to decline. The production has since taken a different direction and not one that would have us in a contradictory position. The SAC of SF granted an on-camera interview, etc.

Let me know how you want me to proceed.

Excuse the cut and paste. [redacted]

The attached is from the Executive Producer for the Zodiac Killer/ History Channel documentary. He sent this after a conference call with him on the direction of the show and the FBI's involvement last month. As he indicated to me, he's not looking for us to discuss the actual cases but more so how the FBI helps the locals with these types of cases. He's also not interested in an FBI. vs. Local approach to telling the story which is why they provided us w/ a copy of the cipher they received and anticipates showcasing.

The list of questions are what the producer submitted for either an on-camera [REDACTED]

Untitled Zodiac Project

The Series:

Next year will mark the 50th anniversary of the beginning of the Zodiac's killing spree in Northern California. To mark the anniversary, the History Channel is executing a six-part series to look at the history of one of the most notorious serial killers in modern times. The hope of this mini-series is to bring the killer and the history of the 1960's and 1970's to life through the police officers, families, and witnesses connected to the case. In addition to the Zodiac killer's four confirmed crimes, we will be exploring the 1966 murder of Cherri Jo Bates in Riverside, CA and the 1970 disappearance of Donna Lass in Lake Tahoe, NV and their possible connections to the Zodiac. While exploring these cases we've catered to each local agencies comfort level and supplied resources at their request when applicable.

The hope in interviewing a member of the FBI is to discuss how and why national agencies get involved with serial killers. What about the Zodiac case made the FBI provide support to local police departments? Obviously, the Zodiac was operating in multiple different police jurisdictions, so how does the FBI work in that type of investigation? The hope is to discuss less about the Zodiac killer himself and more about how the FBI was involved with the Zodiac investigation.

Questions – Z340

- 1) Please give us an introduction.
- 2) What is your title?
- 3) What is your line of work?
- 4) Can you please give us a synopsis or understanding of your work and what your area of expertise is?
- 5) Can you provide a summary of the Bureau's involvement with the Zodiac case as it pertains to the ciphers?
- 6) What is your working relationship to the Zodiac ciphers?
- 7) Why do you believe that the ciphers have not been cracked to date?
- 8) Where do you believe the Zodiac learned his coding?
 - a. Do you think he was self-taught?
 - b. Do you think he could have had military training?
- 9) How many agencies have tried to crack the Z340?
- 10) What do you think

As you consider this request, here are the short answers we could provide for questions 5 to 10:

- 1) Please give us an introduction.
- 2) What is your title?
- 3) What is your line of work?

- 4) Can you please give us a synopsis or understanding of your work and what your area of expertise is?
- 5) Can you provide a summary of the Bureau's involvement with the Zodiac case as it pertains to the ciphers? The Zodiac letters were submitted to the FBI Documents unit, and the 4 Zodiac ciphers were submitted to the FBI's Cryptanalysis unit for decryption (unit names varied over the years). The Cryptanalysis unit verified the decryption of the first cipher (it had already been decrypted by a civilian prior to its arrival at the FBI), but the Lab was unable to decipher the other 3 ciphers that remain unsolved to this day.
- 6) What is your working relationship to the Zodiac ciphers? Our unit maintains all past unsolved ciphers (including Zodiac) and when appropriate, applies new theories, techniques and technology in an effort to solve them
- 7) Why do you believe that the ciphers have not been cracked to date? There are multiple theories as to why they are unsolved that we can discuss.
- 8) Where do you believe the Zodiac learned his coding?
 - a. Do you think he was self-taught? Yes
 - b. Do you think he could have had military training? No. I have had military code training, and nothing that Zodiac did remotely relates to ciphers employed by the military.
- 9) How many agencies have tried to crack the Z340? We don't track other agencies work. We could only speculate.
- 10) What do you think of the [REDACTED] b6

I spoke w/ the producer. She assured me they do not intend to have [redacted] pitted against anyone else featured in the series. She agreed to allow us to see a final cut before it airs. Also, she indicated that they can remove the question [redacted] or if [redacted] would prefer he could just say he can't comment, etc. Whatever her prefers.

The executive producer of the show did ask if [redacted] would be inclined to provide some insight [redacted] "on-background - not on-camera." The information would not be used on-camera and/or attributed to the FBI. I told her we would think about this and get back to them.

If we agree to those terms, they would ideally like to film w/in the next two weeks. The series is slated to air in November. The episode would [redacted] would be the last day of the series. Let me know what you think. Thanks.

Hi [redacted]

The producers now want to see if you can do the call tomorrow because they want to try to film by the end of next week... Although I am going to remind them that Wednesday and Thursday are no good. How about Friday, 10/20? Would that work for you, or should I tell them it has to be the week of the 23rd? I have no problem doing that.

Thanks,
[redacted]

Tomorrow should be fine. Did they give a time?

Friday, 10/20 would be fine for filming or the 16th, 17th, or week of the 23rd.

Hi [redacted]

Well, it seems you were right about the producers changing their minds about using one of you in their show... I don't know if they just couldn't figure out a way to do it with our parameters within their time frame, or they just didn't think it would work anymore, but below is what they said.

"After reviewing our post production schedule and dealing with some cast availability issues, we're going to have to hold off on coming to shoot at Quantico for this season of our show. If we're lucky enough to have a second season, shooting with [redacted] the team would be a huge priority for us."

It does sound like they are leaving an opening to come back in the future, so we will see...

Thanks so much for all of your assistance with this, I will let you know if anything changes.

Hey [REDACTED] Can you take a look at the following, and/or run it by [REDACTED] The first line I think is the only one at issue. If it's a fair statement I say we let it pass rather than over tinker with their creative product.

And I know I owe you a response on the other.

It's a pleasure to emeet you. I am a TV producer in the Los Angeles area and was working [REDACTED] on a project prior to her going on vacation, she directed me to you for my last question. The show is on the Zodiac airing on History. The network is wondering if the following verbiage is appropriate for a card in their final episode:

[REDACTED]

Please do let me know at your convenience. I can also put you in touch with the executive producer of the series if you feel necessary.

Thanks,

In a report released by FOIA where we analyzed a proposed solution in the 80s, here was the phrasing:

Most of the theories are based on conjecture and numerous assumptions. Some assumptions are possibly correct. However, they selectively dissect the literature and present results only if they corroborate the overall theme of their solution. Thus, on a cryptanalytic, mathematical, and technical basis, the Laboratory contends that the results are forced and inconsistent.

Seems pretty applicable [redacted] too...

FYI, in case it comes up: If we had to officially respond [REDACTED] to the media or to FBI management, we would rely on wording similar to that which has been used in previous Zodiac "solution" reviews:

"The theory is based on conjecture and numerous assumptions. Some assumptions are possibly correct. However, the theory involves the selective dissection of the ciphertext and the presentation of results only if they corroborate the overall theme of the proposed solution. Thus, on a cryptanalytic, mathematical, and technical basis, the Laboratory contends that the results are forced and inconsistent."
